

Alma

In the heart of old Burke County,
Neath the skies of blue,
Stands our noble Alma Mater,
Glorious to view.

Lift the chorus, speed it onward,
May it never fail,
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
G.A.S. all hail!

Mater

Classic in her broad proportion,
Looks she proudly down,
Reared against the arch of heaven,
With her stars for crown.

Lift the chorus, speed it onward,
May it never fail,
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
G.A.S. all hail!

Turkey Tail
1956
VOLUME IX

Foreword

The ninth edition of the "Turkey Tail" is represented by a symphony. The musical composition is divided into four sections: First Movement, Second Movement, Third Movement, and the Finale.

The arrangements are by the Junior and Senior Classes of Glen Alpine High School. It is their hope to let the year 1955-1956 linger in your mind like some nostalgic melody.

Dedication

Our symphony begins with an overture . . . the Senior Class of Glen Alpine High School gratefully dedicates the "Turkey Tail" of 1956 to . . . Miss Martha Thomasson, the head of our music department. Patience, long hours, and physical and mental toil are part of her daily schedule. She has accomplished much, and no one is more deserving than she. Her persistence is rewarded by the results of her labors.

"Give a child not only a book he can read, and teach him to read it, but give him also a horn he can blow, and teach him to blow it. Horn blowing, too, is education."

First Movement

People we passed
Every day in the hall,
Became speaking acquaintances,
Not strangers at all;
And it gave satisfaction
To see our friends grow
At this school where we have learned
To love and to know
Our own G. A. High.

Second Movement

We kicked, blocked, and tackled
In manner fantastic,
We dribbled down the court
For . . . two points in the basket,
They signaled 'play ball',
And the game was on,
As we backed our mighty Green Waves
With a prayer and a song
For our own G. A. High.

Third Movement

Here we learned to belong
To be part of the plan,
With a task for everyone
In the four-year span;
There was homework on Monday,
Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday,
and Friday, too;
Each doing their share
And soon we were through.
After school and at night
There was plenty to do,
With sports and parties bright
And books to read, too,
At our old G.A. High.

Class Prophecy

One day while walking through the Petrified Forest, I came upon a most unbelievable scene. There, in the door of a cavern, sat three witches around a boiling cauldron. They were all stirring its contents and repeating in unison, "Double, double, toil and trouble, fire burn and cauldron bubble." As I drew close, there suddenly appeared from the murky depths of the cauldron many apparitions, which I surprisingly recognized as my classmates of 1956.

First there appeared Nell Lail, a beloved home economics teacher, and who should I see next but Barbara Lea Taylor as a prominent physical therapist. As I stood there, I saw, one by one, my classmates as they would be in 1970. Betty Ruth Cooper was a private nurse at Broad-oaks; Doris Moore was head nurse at the Glen Alpine Rest Home. The next scene was very touching--Carolyn Saulman and Linda McKinney were sitting around the home fires.

Then I saw a group which had gone elsewhere to make their fortunes. A large number had gone to New York. The scene unraveled itself and I beheld it as a large painting in oil. There in the slums of New York was Donnie Maloney, doing a very worthwhile job as a social worker. Martha Deaton, a reporter for the New York Times, was doing a story on the evils of the slums.

The scene then changed from one extreme to the other. Faye McGinnis was seen in the most exclusive section of New York. By marrying a rich young tycoon, Faye had acquired Saks Fifth Avenue. I always knew Faye would go places. Its interior had been decorated by Audrey Parton. Edith Puett, Franda Gibbs, and Clara Patton were modeling the latest modes from Paris.

Bob Bennett had been off to college and had become a civil engineer. To help solve New York's traffic problem, Bob had drawn a blueprint for a new bridge to span the Hudson.

Donald McGalliard had just designed a new transport plane for T W A, which now employs Barbara Williams, Lola Jean Sisk and Sylvia Williams as hostesses. I was shocked to see Buster Benfield flying it, but, oh well, Buster always did have his head in the clouds.

Every day Buster flies over Gene Prestwood's championship dog farm. Gene has produced five national champions. Gene had to have the best for his dogs, so he hired the Einstein of the biological world, Jack Lowdermilk. Jack was working on some special formula for dog food.

On the farm adjoining Gene's was the home of Stanley Rogers. Stanley had become a 4-H Club adviser.

Our shorthand lover, Betty McCarthy, was secretary for the Henredon factory, owned and operated by John David Dale, who also employs Peggy Brittain as his designer. Paul Dellinger was head salesman, and Doris Pitts was John David's bookkeeper.

Rudolph was one of the foremost sports announcers and was employed by WGA. On his program he had some of his former classmates for an interview; Gerald Clontz, head football coach at Duke, and Everette Pollard and Frank Kincaid, now stars for rival teams in professional football. Everette was quarterback for the Cleveland Browns, and Frank was lineman for the Los Angeles Rams.

Over Station WGA, announcer Sam Henline was saying, "I have a bit of interesting news for you local people. Leatha Patton has been chosen by the National Education Association as the outstanding English teacher of the year and our own son of Glen Alpine, Forrest Fleming, has been elected Governor of North Carolina.

Nevelyn Bollinger is serving a worthy cause, the National Guard, in which he is now a major.

I see that Nevelyn is not the only one serving his country; Martha Franklin, along with Barbara Ann Taylor, is working for the F.B.I. Every day they have lunch in one of Clifton Davis's chain restaurants, in which Glenn Reep, who went to Paris to study French cuisine, is now head chef.

All at once I noticed the apparitions were becoming harder and harder to discern. I employed the witches to show me my future. For an answer they began to chant, "Double, double, toil and trouble, fire burn and cauldron bubble." Before they completely disappeared, I thought I saw the sign of a commissioned officer in the U. S. Navy.

Last Will And Testament

We, the Senior Class of 1956, before saying farewell, want to leave something that will keep us in memory in the years to come. We, therefore, declare this our Last Will and Testament.

ARTICLE I.

We leave with our teachers the memories of our four years in high school and thank them for everything they have done for us.

ARTICLE II.

We, individually, leave the following to the underclassmen:

- I, Barbara Williams, will my popular, flirty ways to Edith Cowan.
- I, Don McGalliard, leave my position as Miss Thompson's "pet" to Wayne Kiser.
- I, Martha Franklin, leave my "night-owl shift" to Margaret Beach.
- I, Frank Kincaid, will my witty sayings to Donnie Williams.
- I, John "Sug" Dale, will leave my roving ways to J. C. Fox.
- I, Clara Patton, will to Andrea Bennett all my giggles.
- I, Betty Cooper, leave my quiet ways to Hester Buff.
- I, Nevelyn Bollinger, leave my position in the National Guard to David Mooney.
- I, Paul Dellinger, leave my seat in U.S. History, which I occupied for three years, to Carrol Epley.
- I, Clifton Davis, bequeath my studious manner to Maynard Brown.
- I, Audrey Parton, will my artistic ability to Janice Anderson.
- I, Barbara Lea Taylor, leave my steadiness to Beth Bobbitt--she needs it!
- I, Buster Benfield, leave my "crew-cut" to Ralph Hawkins.
- I, Leatha Patton, will my intelligence to Mary White.
- I, Faye McGinnis, leave my ability to get along with all my teachers to Libby Lail.
- I, Franda Gibbs, will my ability in sports to Jackie Morris.
- I, Nell Lail, leave my cute smile to Patsy Whisenant.
- I, Gerald Clontz, leave my ability to hold a girl to Kenneth Bivens.
- I, Sam Henline, leave, to my regret, all these pretty girls at G.A.H.S.
- I, Peggy Brittain, leave my "A's" in all my subjects to Dorothy Williamson.
- I, Carl Dellinger, will my friendly disposition to Charlie Henline.
- I, Martha Deaton, bequeath my dependability to Nancy Haskins.
- I, Edith Puett, leave my good looks to Dottee Giles.
- I, Forrest Fleming, will my ability to get along with fellow students to J.E. Mull.
- I, Stanley Rogers, bequeath to Larry Causby my position as President of the F.F.A.
- I, Jack Lowdermilk, leave my ability in science to David McKinney.
- I, Donnie Maloney, leave my friendly ways to Frances Rogers.
- I, Sylvia Williams, leave my cuteness to Frances Arrowood.
- I, Everette Pollard, will my basketball ability to "Goose" Gibbs.
- I, Carolyn Saulman, will my drawing ability to Barbara Elder.
- I, Rudolph Queen, leave my mischievous ways to Reginald Benfield.
- I, Betty McCarthy, leave my talkative ways to Barbara Pollard.
- I, Barbara Ann Taylor, leave my pleasing manner to Kay Parton.
- I, Doris Pitts, will my shyness to Alice McKinney.
- I, Jim Watson, leave my curly hair to Jimmy Queen.
- I, Gene Prestwood, leave my typing skill to J. P. Milligan.
- I, Doris Moore, leave to Catherine Jordan my appreciation for good jokes.
- I, Lola Jean Sisk, leave my long, blond hair to John Henry.
- I, Glenn Reep, leave my roving eyes to Royce Byrd.

And finally, I, Bob Bennett, leave my good times in geometry to Gladys Morgan.

Finale

Here in this last and final division
Are those, who each day
Safely completed their mission;
Whether the weather light or gray;
Hurry, take a last look!
Our symphony now comes to an end;
We have presented our yearbook
To each and every friend
At our own G. A. High.

Alma

In the heart of old Burke County,
Neath the skies of blue,
Stands our noble Alma Mater,
Glorious to view.

May it never fail,
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
G.A.S. all hail!

Classic in her broad proportion,
Looks she proudly down,
Reared against the arch of heaven,
With her stars for crown.
